Meet the entire value chain in Munich

For more than sixty years, the Munich Show is the place to be for mineral enthusiasts and the top sourcing hub for stone processing companies in Europe. More than 1,100 exhibitors cover the entire value chain from rough material to finished products. Whether you are a miner, manufacturer, wholesaler or service provider, the Munich Show opens up access to worldwide industry professionals and buyers at a perfect time of the year.

Wholesale-oriented booth options

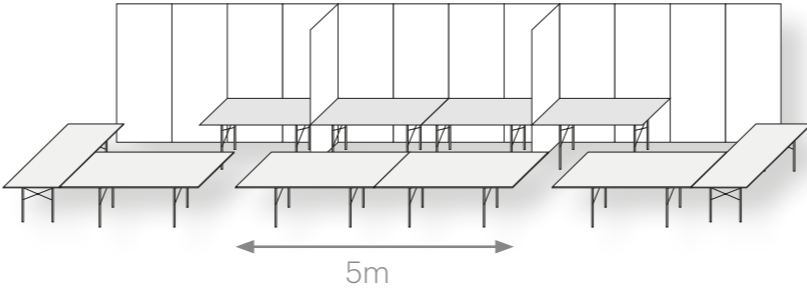

Booth options at the show range from raw space to table booths and further up to completely equipped full-service booths. Among the most popular solutions for mineral and fossil exhibitors are wall table booth in hall A4 as well as raw space in the wholesale area of hall A5. Starting from 24 square meters, there is a discount on the space price - giving wholesale exhibitors more options for their show participation.
